DETAILED ACTION

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 3-8,10,12-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. It is unclear how the receiver (such as a Polar heart rate monitor) can determine the intensity of the signal. The applicant has presented a hypothetical use of such a receiver . What structure has been added to the receiver to permit it to recognize different signal strengths? The evidence submitted by applicant (Declaration of Simo Maenpaa) has been considered and does discuss electromagnetic field intensity theory, but the examiner contends that one skilled in the art, given applicant's disclosure, would not be able to produce the invention as claimed.

It is unclear as to how the modification circuitry 33 and microprocessor 34 are able to modify a heart rate monitor such as a Polar monitor to measure variations in the field strengths.

1. Claims 10,12-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The Specification refers to field of signal processing wherein signals are amplified, filtered and converted. These are all concepts in the fields of electronic devices and circuits; however, applicant does not provide structural recitations of amplifiers, filters, and signal modifiers in the Specification.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 10-11-05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

The filed 10-11-05 has been reviewed but fails to overcome the 112 first paragraph enablement rejection.

It is noted that Pasi Mattila's master thesis was approved October 8, 2001 which is after the filing date of applicant's patent application. Therefore, this thesis is not a prior art acknowledgment of the heart rate receiver signal strength used to determine the distance between a transmitter and a receiver. It could not be incorporated by reference into this application because it was published after the filing date of the present application. It is also noted that nowhere in the Specification has applicant incorporated by reference the above mentioned enablement issues.

Conclusion

2. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
